TAGGART CONFIDENT

National Chairman Predicts Victory for Parker and Davis.

IS SURE OF INDIANA

Gives Out Strong Claims as to Many Other States.

(By Associated Press.)
INDIANAPOLIS, IND., October 22.—Chairman Taggart said to-night:

"The political situation in many of the States is just beginning to shape itself so we can get a line on it. We know to a certainty now that we have enough votes to elect the national ticket. The Republicans concede that we will lose none of the States that we carried four years ago for Bryan. Our total electoral vote was then 155. To elect Parker and Davis we need 155 votes. We must gain eighty-four electoral votes to win.

"We are going to do that very thing. We are sure of New York. The people of New York State are opposed to Roosevelt because they believe he is unsafe. Thousands of Republicans are supporting Judge Parker for the reason.

Sure of Indiana.
"As to Indiana, there is not the least doubt that the State will go Democratic. I am as certain of it as though the votes were all in and counted. I came here to see how things were going, and I am more than satisfied Maryland and New Jersey will also go Democratic.

"We are not making extravagant claims as to what the West will do, but we know we are going to carry some of the States out there. Washington will certainly be Democratic and West Virginia is going Democratic, too, and we are counting on several more. It is more than likely that Wisconsin will be in the Democratic column."

MAY HAVE BIG BATTLE

General Kuropatkin has again displayed consummate skill in preventing the Russian advance from reaching the Pilsa of victory. By withdrawing his right wing from under shelter of the right and center he started in the gigantic task of taking 3,000 wounded off the field of battle, and more than this, according to all indications, he reorganized and reformed his broken legions and again confronted the Japanese across the Shakhe River.

"That General Kuropatkin after being close to 40,000 men was able to resume the offensive within a fortnight, constitutes a feat in military history. There was an impression early in the week that General Kuropatkin was concentrating his forces on his right and center to avoid being driven off the line of the railroad, which might have embarrassed the retirement of his left, but now he has ample time to withdraw, and the situation shows more determination than ever to secure strong advanced positions across the Shakhe. It is known that the left has actually pushed forward slightly and that operations contemplate only rear guard actions, seems negatived.

The general staff acts rather mysteriously. It simply attributes the cessation of operations to the natural exhaustion of both sides, but does not offer a clue to what it anticipates. It is significant, however, with what satisfaction the news of the capture of Shakhe town at the intersection of the Shakhe River and the Mandarin Road, was received here. The taking of the town is considered an important strategic gain, placing General Kuropatkin in complete mastery of both sides of the Shakhe River. The railroad and the Mukden-Benishan Roads, and assuring his communications against the possibility of being cut off from the south. The only point on the left bank of the Shakhe River remaining in the hands of the Japanese is Lamintung, within rifle shot of the railroad bridge. The bridge has presumably been confounded with the Shakhe Station, five miles north, the report that the Russians had bombarded the station applying to the bridge, as the station is now beyond the sphere of their operations.

The heavy concentration of both Russians and Japanese between the Mandarin road and the railroad makes certain a tremendous collision at this point. The Associated Press learns that a portion of the Eighth Army Corps, which had reached Harbin, is hurrying southward.

The weather has again become clear, but is very cold and the soldiers are reported to be suffering. A correspondent wires that twelve Japanese were found Friday night by a detachment of Cossacks. They were unconscious and half frozen and were conveyed to the Russian camp, where they were cared for.

PRACTICALLY INACTIVE.

Both Armies Receiving Supplies and Early Fighting Expected.

(By Associated Press.)
WITH THE RUSSIAN EASTERN ARMY HEADQUARTERS BY WAY OF MUKDEN, October 22.—Both armies remain practically inactive. The Russians have re-occupied Tsinzuping. The Japanese hold a position on high ground sloping down to the Shakhe River. There is continual outpost fighting and sniping, and the batteries occasionally engage in a duel westwards. General Mischenko fought a brisk engagement on the 20th. It reports progress, and the capture of guns.

The two armies are receiving fresh supplies of ammunition. There is an indication of an early renewal of hostilities, with the Russians taking the offensive. The weather is ice cold.

A rough estimate of the Russian losses during the recent battle places them at 25,000, of which 10,000 were killed.

The correspondent of the Associated Press who filed this dispatch was attacked by Chinese bandits while riding to rejoin his corps.

FACING EACH OTHER.

Russians Said to be Massing Forces Against Right Army.

(By Associated Press.)
TOKYO, Oct. 22.—A. M.—The news of Oyan and Kuropatkin's conflict, a conflict, each other, but neither has again assumed the aggressive.

According to a report from the Japanese Manchurian headquarters telegraphed yesterday, it is reported that the Russians are massing a heavy force against the right army, but the purpose of this force is not indicated. The report says:

"In the direction of our right army two hundred of the enemy's cavalry crossed the Taitse River. They seem to have advanced to the westward. Two battalions of Russian cavalry are posted in the neighborhood of Kaokunochi, and it is reported that 20,000 Russians are assembling in the vicinity of Kotal Pass.

"In the direction of the center and left armies, the enemy occasionally sends an artillery fire and also fifteen centimetre mortars.

"At 5 o'clock of the evening of October 20th the enemy posted in the neighborhood of Bufangtang began shelling the Shakhe Railway station.

"We captured 120 rifles and other munitions near Chang Liang Pao, on the night of October 20th."

RECLAIM SUPPLIES.

The Russians Get Back Some Captured by the Japanese.

(By Associated Press.)
ST. PETERSBURG, October 22.—General Kuropatkin, in a dispatch to Emperor Nicholas, under date of October 21st, says:

"The Japanese retired from the village of Shakhe at nightfall October 20th. Thursday night passed quietly along the entire front."

was precipitate. We found in the village arms, munitions and provisions which had been abandoned by the Japanese, who also left behind in our old artillery position one cannon, four libers and a wagon full of instruments they had previously captured from us. Since the battle of October 15th we have turned altogether fourteen Japanese guns, including nine field pieces and five mountain guns, and have retaken one of our own lost guns.

"There was no fighting October 21st on the front of the Manchurian army."

Many Guns Captured.

(By Associated Press.)
TOKYO, October 22.—A. M.—A telegram received from Manchurian headquarters says:

"On October 21st there was no change reported in the front of all our armies. Further investigation shows the number of guns captured by our left army to have been forty-three, the left column taking twenty-seven and the right column sixteen. The wagons, munitions, etc., which have been captured have not yet been counted.

"Guns dispatched from the left army, on the night of October 20th discovered the corpses of two hundred Russian, west of Chang Liang Pao."

RELY ON GALES

Russians Believe They Will Profit by Heavy Winds in Yellow Sea.

(By Associated Press.)
ST. PETERSBURG, October 21.—The telegram received by the family of Nava Architect Kautelnikoff, now at Port Arthur, dated October 14th, and sent by way of Che Foo, says:

"All well. Do not be disheartened. We are working on a Sebastopol."

The Associated Press learns that the Baltic fleet will proceed to the far East at a low speed. There is no intention to have the fleet arrive there until February. The admiralty expects the Russian of Port Arthur to hold out until the fleet arrives. According to other reports, if the Russian holds out another six weeks, the fierce northeast gales which then begin will sweep the yellow sea and constitute such danger to the Japanese warships that it will compel Admiral Togo to relax his blockade and the Russian will be able to secure a fresh supply of war munitions and food.

No Collisions Reported.

(By Associated Press.)
ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 22, 4:50 P. M.—There is no news of fresh fighting to-day. General Sakharoff reports under this morning's date the last night passed very quietly. There were no collisions.

The war office is not in a position as yet to give figures of the casualties in the long battle below Mukden, but everything indicates that the Russian losses reached 40,000, the figure given by the Associated Press correspondent at Mukden. Another correspondent places the losses on both sides at 80,000. The war office is convinced that the Japanese losses, while below those of the Russians, were almost as heavy.

Results Expected.

(By Associated Press.)
MUKDEN, Oct. 22.—Field Marshal Oyama's counter offensive was definitely checked with the loss of men, guns and munitions.

General Kuropatkin's army extends along a line running over twelve and a half miles south of Mukden, and is supported by strong fortifications on the Hun River. The present calm is enforced by the exhaustion of the armies on both sides, which lost in killed and wounded 80,000 men during the ten days' fighting.

There is every indication that the battle will be resumed soon, and that a decisive result will be achieved.

LOSSES VERY HEAVY.

Japanese Find Five Hundred Dead Russians Near Mukden.

(By Associated Press.)
WITH THE JAPANESE ARMY (GENERAL OKU'S) IN THE FIELD, October 19-21 A. M., via Fusan, October 22.—This morning the armies face each other miles apart. Ten miles south of Mukden the Russian maintain an offensive attitude. They are attacking the Japanese lines night and day, but are being repulsed with heavy loss. After one attack Monday night, October 17th, the Japanese found five hundred Russian dead close to the Japanese line.

Attacks occur along the entire front of three armies.

FIERCE ATTACK.

Japs Are Handling Themselves With Great Gallantry.

(By Associated Press.)
WITH THE JAPANESE ARMY (GENERAL OKU'S) IN THE FIELD, October 19-21 P. M., via Fusan, October 22.—The Japanese of the left army report their casualties to date as 5,100. These include comparatively few killed, although many were only slightly wounded. Five thousand Russian dead have been buried by the Japanese, who estimate that the Russians removed about two thousand.

It is believed that the Russian casualties before the left army equals an army corps. The right army (General Kuroki's) reports fewer losses than the left army, but there have been greater Russian casualties before it.

Last night the Russians fiercely attacked the left army, but they were repulsed.

Three Political Meetings Last Night—Edgar Allan, Jr., Speaks.

ORIGINALS AID IN THE RALLY.

Socialist Speaks in the Open Air.

Services To-day—Personals and Briefs.

There was much display of oratory last night in Manchester, in Anderson's Hall, on the corner of Ninth and Hull, and in Toney's Hall, the followers of Cleo, Demosthenes and Burke held sway, and kept their audiences wrapped in the silence either of attention or weariness.

In Anderson's Hall, Mr. Edgar Allan, Jr., held forth in the interests of the Republican party to an audience of twenty-five or thirty men, who were but slightly sprinkled with the darker tinge.

In reference to the disputed regularity of his nomination, Mr. Allan stated that he had a letter from Mr. Agnew, chairman of the Republican State convention, recognizing him as the duly authorized Republican nominee for Congress, and also one from Mr. Babcock, to the same effect. He said, too, that the official organ, the Virginia Daily Press, recognized him also. He scored the Federal office trust which had placed Barker in the way of his candidacy. He said that he had but three opponents, Lamb, Hanson and the colored gentleman from Manchester. He made scathing remarks about Hanson and Johnson, and said that he would refer later to Lamb.

Charles Bland to Speak.

In the meeting of the original Parker-Davis-Lamb Club last night it was decided to hold a rally on November 5th, and to invite Hon. Charles T. Bland as the chief speaker of the occasion. The invitation committee, D. L. Toney and W. H. Bount, were empowered to secure whomever else they could to speak on that occasion.

A committee on a supper for November 5th was appointed as follows: F. Neuroth, R. B. Toney, H. M. Mason, T. M. Hines, E. S. Nunnally, E. D. Wilkinson, W. R. Martin, Charles Stein and H. J. Mantle.

There was a good attendance last night, about fifty people being present. Five new members were added to the list, making, it is said, the membership 213. The Socialist speaker, Harvey A. Santee, held forth to a small crowd on the corner of Tenth and Hull Streets. He was introduced by Mr. A. B. McCulloch, of Richmond.

Opens Handsome Place.

Mr. William Hinds on yesterday opened a handsome cigar and soda water store at the corner of Tenth and Main Streets, where the Metropolitan Bank formerly had its quarters.

The place is now considered one of the landmarks in the city, and the fixtures and fountain are most attractive. Mr. Hinds was at one time a member of the firm of Scott and Hinds, which did business on Broad Street several years ago.

WARMLY PRAISES
AMERICAN NAVY

Sir Thomas Lipton Entertains Officers and Men of Olympia.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Oct. 22.—Sir Thomas Lipton entertained about three hundred officers and men of the United States cruiser Olympia at the Crystal Palace to-day. After a brief reception at which Sir Thomas shook hands with each of the guests, the men marched in to dinner. In front of each man was a presentation pipe, pouch and tobacco. Sir Thomas toasted the American navy and said he had good reason to know the merits of American seamanship, "and also of American generosity, gauged by the number of licks they have laid out to me." His expressed the hope, however, that at a distant date he would take a Shamrock IV to America. Midshipman L. E. Breton, in charge of the party, proposed Sir Thomas Lipton's health, which the men drank to the accompaniment of rousing cheers, with a "serenade" for Shamrock IV. Former Lord Mayor of London, Sir Philipps, toasted Anglo-American unity. Many well-known Americans and British subjects were present.
